Our first month of 2024 is ending... the older I get, the quicker time flies by.

After this email, I am going to try sending weekly newsletters each Tuesday by noon, mt. Now, with that said, I have tried sticking to a specific day of the week for this in the past and it never seems to fit where I need it. We will try and see how it goes.

If you have a hard time receiving my emails, you can always find the latest email on my new announcements page: <https://snappy-tots.com/announcements/>

Ending TODAY (1/31/24):

First off, if you are reading this email after 2/1/24, I am sorry that you missed this reminder. I always hesitate to send email reminders for that reason, but I also get emails from people upset they weren't reminded. My quest to please everyone doesn't seem possible, yet I continue to try.

- If you participated in my last dishcloth swap and/or ornament exchange, you will be getting the special pattern today.
- Seasonally Snappy 2023: Today is the very last day you can get ALL of the 2023 Seasonally Snappy patterns plus TONS of extras. There are over 50 patterns (24 that were brand new in 2023 for this event and over 25 of some of my favorite patterns) for just $22.50.

- Winter Washcloth Bundle: Every day this month, a different designer released a crochet pattern for a new washcloth. Did you miss some or want a bundle of all 31 patterns? You can still get your 2024 Winter Washcloths Crochet Pattern Bundle NOW (31 gorgeous crochet washcloth patterns for incredible price):

- Weekly Freebies: I had a hard time keeping up with the Monday make ahead patterns so I won't be doing a theme day this year. However, I will keep releasing freebies and you can still access the past weekly events if you want to make items throughout the year: Make Ahead Projects, Weekly Wash, Ornaments
- Weekly Sales: Each week watch for specials at THIS LINK.

Latest Snappiness

Have you seen what I have been up to on my blog? My "Latest Snappiness" section is here to keep you updated on the most recent pattern releases and more.

Weekly Wash #5: White Board Cleaners

I kind of have an addiction to white boards (dry erase boards). I have several throughout the house, including a couple really big ones. After trying a bunch of different erasers and cleaning them often, my husband suggested using an old rag like he uses on his in the garage (yep, even he has one ...

Free Crochet Pattern: Puffy Heart Scarf

Maybe it is because Valentine's is just around the corner or because I miss being able to hug family and friends, but I decided I wanted to make a scarf with big, puffy hearts. I grabbed a skein of "Red Heart Super Saver Ombre" yarn and got to work. I hope you like what I ...

Free Pattern: Lulu's Beanie

Several years ago I designed a "Club Snappy Beanie" made from bulky weight yarn and a cluster stitch. I have always wanted to make a worsted weight version. So when I wanted to make a beanie for my granddaughter with Red Heart With Love Metallic yarn it seemed a perfect time. I LOVE how it ...

Free Pattern: Lucky Goose Cape

A couple of years ago I made a Mini Top Hat and Bow Tie for our geese. It is still pretty cold in northern Utah in March and they got a little chilly for St. Patrick's Day so I wanted them to have a special outfit to match. I decided to create a cape. The ...
